From the Vice President

Hi Neighbors,

I thought it would be interesting to examine the history of Ranch Architecture in the United States, as it so overwhelmingly defines the original character of our beautiful neighborhood. Though it may seem difficult to believe these days, our homes were radically modern and innovative when built, and reflected the newfound focus on technological advancement in post-War America...especially in Western regions of the country where growth was rapid and the need for shelter from the sunny climate was essential.

Key design elements of Ranch Architecture are usually, but not always, inclusive of a single-story home with a long, low roofline in an asymmetrical shape with exteriors of brick, stucco, wood, and glass with large windows, sliding glass doors, attached garages, and larger lots than would have been customary in homes built in previous decades. The car was king, and suburban neighborhoods with Ranch-style homes catered to the believed at the time that rainwater would fall directly off the eaves and provide even watering to the foundation below. Inside your homes, you likely have open floorplans with versatile uses. It is also quite likely that you have (or had) sliding glass doors leading to a covered rear porch. Again, sliding glass doors were seen as modern, and they allowed the homeowners to open up their interior and exterior spaces for entertaining...a key consideration for many 1950's families. Your interior doors are most likely smooth, as it was the style of the time to streamline and modernize by refining the use of any sort of decoration. Your ceilings are much lower than those of nearby older neighborhoods like Winnetka Heights, as your homes were designed and built with air conditioning in mind and no longer needed tall rooms to allow the heat to rise. Many of your homes would have originally had a wallpaper mural in the Dining Room, with themes as wild and varied as the Gardens of Versailles, the coast of Italy, Mount Fuji, and the French countryside. It was kitsch, but it was all the rage!

By the 1950's in California, 90% of all newly constructed homes were built in the Ranch style. But by the the late 1960's and early 1970's, the desires of the American public had shifted away from Ranch architecture. As with other architectural styles that have boomed, been replaced, and have subsequently declined, Ranch Architecture is once again being appreciated and sought out for its simplicity of design, unpretentious nature, efficient and solid construction, and appeal to those seeking one-level living. I hope you'll take a moment to look around you and imagine what it must have been like for the first person in your house, and to imagine how different it must have seemed to the older relatives who visited it for the first time. Enjoy it!

new reality that no longer required things like sidewalks to provide a safe route to a nearby streetcar or bus. The long, low profiles were a modern nod to North American Spanish Colonial & Native American architecture, which used native materials like mud and clay on one-story dwellings with deep eaves as an efficient means to shelter their inhabitants from scorching Summer heat and fierce Winter cold. In North Texas, many builders did not originally install gutters as it was

Lynn Sulander, President

The October meeting is a pivotal one to residents of Wynnewood North with the election of the 2016 Board of Directors. We hope to have a vibrant slate of volunteers to choose from. We will hold elections in October with the board term starting in January 2016. This allows two months for smooth transition between outgoing and incoming Board Members. If you have an interest in serving on the Board, ask a neighbor to nominate you or nominate yourself! The roles and responsibilities of each Board of Director position are outlined in this newsletter., please see pages 10 & 11.

I look forward to seeing you at Quarterly General Meeting.

Beautification, Phil Perry

Greetings Neighbors,

It's amazing how time flies. I have had the pleasure of being on the Board for the last two years in the role of Beautification. I personally feel that much was accomplished. From Greenbelt clean-ups, to Triangle makeovers, to new signage and the list goes on.

But...the important part of all this is.....I could not have done anything without the Beautification Committee and participation of many neighbors!!!!

This is what makes Wynnewood North truly a beautiful place to live. The Neighbors! At the October meeting, elections will occur. I'd encourage you to consider running for Beautification. Responsibilities include Yard of the Month, the Triangles, the Greenbelt (clean-up and doggie bags), entrance sign maintenance, and probably a few additional miscellaneous items.

If you choose to run, feel free to reach out to me with any questions. But know, you'll be moving into a position with a GREAT committee in place, the Triangles are revitalized, the Greenbelt clean and the struggling trees being water until the rains return!

And as a last thank you, my thanks to all that have stepped forward and volunteered to water some of the trees we received in the 2010 Reforestation that were struggling in the drought. Please address any questions to beautification@wynnewoodnorth.org.

The Beautification Committee of 2015

Summer Social Events

We bid a warm farewell to the 2015 Spring and Summer event calendars which were filled with Get to Know Your Neighbor Happy Hours, the Spring Fling, Easter Egg Hunt, Neighborhood Garage Sale, Spring Wander, and closed out with our final event of the summer, the Wynnewood Fourth of July celebration.

We are excited about our recent and upcoming events for the remainder of 2015.

Wynnewood Fourth

The Wynnewood Fourth of July celebration was the last event of the summer. It was such a great way to end the season and approximately ninety neighbors came out to join the festivities. The event started in the morning with the neighborhood kids painting and decorating Jesse Bartlett's truck, followed by many neighbors riding bikes and walking with their families and pets in the neighborhood parade. There were even a few classic cars cruising in the parade. Speaking of classic cars, kids and neighbors really enjoyed rolling with the top down in that mean classic Ford Thunderbird that Josh Lewis was driving.

After the parade we had an amazing brunch featuring great dishes prepared by our wonderful neighbors and mimosas with friends. A special thanks to Janice Coffee and Terry Thomas for providing a great venue for our families to get out and enjoy. Also, thank you to Wayne Chai and Joan Buccola of 723 Mayrant for allowing use your front yard to host the brunch.

Please visit the Wynnewood North Neighborhood Association website: <http://www.wynnewoodnorth.org> to view photos of our events throughout the year.

Are You An Old Fogey?

SSNOW (Supporting Senior Neighbors of Wynnewood) is making plans for a brunch in early spring. If you're fortunate enough to have been born in or before 1950, contact Janice Coffee at 214-942-7029 or via email at janicecoffee@yahoo.com with your information.

This will be a great opportunity to re-connect with old friends or make some new ones in the neighborhood!

Bylaws Revision Proposed

The Board of Directors present a proposed change to Section 3.2 of the Bylaws. The change will be voted on during the October 15th General Meeting which begins at 7pm at The Orion Ballroom atop Bank of America at Zang & 12th. Below is the current language, along with the proposed revision. Please review the proposed change and be prepared to vote accordingly.

Section 3.2 Present Language: “All Officers must be Members of the WNNNA.”

Proposed Language: “All Officers must be members of WNNNA. Directorships shall not be denied to any person on the basis of sex, age, race, ethnicity, national origin, range of physical abilities, sexual orientation, gender identity, financial means, education, or political affiliation.”

As you read this the Holidays will soon be upon us! I personally love Christmas (or maybe the idea of Christmas, the jury is still out on that one...). I love getting together with friends, I love keeping my family holiday traditions of baking and making fudge, and I love shopping for that special gift that will make friends and loved ones smile with surprise. I have given it some thought, and I know what I will be asking Santa for this year. I desperately need a gift certificate for a gift wrapping fairy that will be at my beck and call anytime I need to wrap a present.

I hate, and let me reiterate, I HATE wrapping gifts. When the gift wrapping talent was handed out I must have been on a bathroom break because that is what my gift wrapping looks like... something to toss in the toilet! I have always wanted to be able to wrap a gift with beautiful corners topped off with ribbons or bows so gorgeous the person opening the present almost can't bring themselves to tear into such a beautiful masterpiece. That's not a problem at our house. To start with, since I hate to wrap, I procrastinate, and when I say procrastinate, I mean I am wrapping gifts on Christmas Eve at the last possible moment. My avoidance issue creates additional problems:

1. Mary has already used the prettiest wrapping paper and bows;
2. We are out of tape;
3. We only have right-handed scissors (every year I vow to buy some lefty's – obviously not high on my priority list);
4. Mary has used all the boxes for shirts and other items; and
5. The only place big enough to spread out to wrap gifts is on the floor. I can get down on the floor, but getting up is another issue, especially when there are curious, helpful dogs around.

So...now I'm left with the leftovers that no one wanted to use from years past and/or the paper we bought to wrap Mary's nephew's gifts – and somehow, Dinosaur paper isn't quite the look I was going for. Time for plan B – use gift bags! Yeah...right. Mary used those up too! Last year my frustration level reached a new high for the "how low can I go," barometer. I actually took the gifts Mary had already wrapped up in a bag for me, removed the gift and put her gift in it, then put it back under

The gift I removed from the bag was all wrapped up in tissue paper, so I didn't even ruin my own surprise! I then placed my gift in a Central Market grocery bag because well...it was handy and could hold several items! I came up with this brilliant idea after I opened the stocking stuffer mini-wines and drank them all. Pretty good huh? Mary's face on Christmas Day was priceless when she was looking for the bags with my name on them. I have since been advised to not pull that stunt again this year.

To say I am wrapping challenged is an understatement. Last year, I misjudged just how much paper I needed to wrap three gifts. On one of them, numerous pieces of tape and leftover scraps of wrapping paper fixed the problem. Yes...you could see the patch job; it was similar to a hysterectomy scar, but the packages was at least covered. On the other two...well I just left them and told Mary not to flip it over when she opened them.

What is the secret to putting tissue paper in gift bags? Please...would someone tell me! My tissue paper looks more than a little used. No matter how hard I try to gently shove the tissue in the bag and make it look "festive," it looks like I wadded it up, then tried to smooth it out, then wadded it up again. In other words, my festive bags look like something the dogs dragged in. I have no pride, or apparently no shame, as I constantly re-gift gift bags that still look halfway decent. I just scratch out the old name and put the new recipient's name on the tag. My favorite gift to give is alcohol because you can buy nifty bottle bags and don't have to wrap a darn thing!

The only time it appears I have done a "cute" job wrapping gifts is when I wrap the gifts from the dogs to Mary as it honestly looks like the dogs wrapped them. Mary thought I was being "creative," and that I did it on purpose! I just nodded in agreement. I have even stooped so low as to have Mary's gifts in boxes and then beg her to help wrap on her own gifts under the pretense they are for my brother. I was once again advised to, "not do that again." Kind of takes all the fun out of the Holiday's doesn't it? I mean, if you can't get creative to solve a problem, then what are you supposed to do?

I think maybe this year I will just buy all my gifts from Bishop Arts since they gift wrap, or gift cards from Hattie's and other OC establishments. Even I can put a gift card in an envelope! Ding, ding, ding! We have a winner! Now I can enjoy the rest of 2015!

Yard of the Month

Congratulations to the most recent recipients of Yard of the Month:

July: James and Cindy Martin
August: Chris Hayes and Tom Cawley
September: Silver and Bill Poteet

Each of these recipients received a gift card compliments of Calloway's. We have many beautiful yards in our neighborhood. Please remember to nominate yards each month.

- Visit www.wynnewoodnorth.org/
- Go to Beautification > Yard of The Month Nomination
- Or contact our Beautification director, Phil Perry

We limit a home to this designation once per year. Please support Calloway's business to show our gratitude for their support of Wynnewood North.

Tips for Fall Gardeners

FROM CALLOWAY'S AND CORNELIUS NURSERY

Usher in the autumn season with creative displays for indoors and out! Transformation quickly occurs with pots of mums, pansies, cabbages and ornamental peppers when combined with pumpkins, gourds and bales of hay.

The autumn color palette offers a myriad of wonderful colors from which to choose; purples, rusts, gold's, yellows, oranges, deep greens and browns can be used. Whether you are mixing colors or working with only one, use color abundantly to create massive appeal.

Color Creations filled with blooming or colorful foliage plants can be used on patios and porches. Freshen up existing containers by nestling an interesting pumpkin or gourd in amongst the plants. Fill a favorite basket or pot with a mixture of produce for a simple, impressive look.

If you did not apply a pre-emergent herbicide to your lawn in September; apply it by the first two weeks of October. You should also fertilize your St. Augustine or Bermuda lawns no later than the first week of October.

October is bulb buying month. They are in fresh supply and will provide welcome late winter and early spring color for the landscape. Refrigerate Tulips and Hyacinth bulb for at least 45 to 60 days to provide enough chilling to bloom properly. Plant them in late November or early December.

Pet Corner

Many neighbors in WWN are big animal lovers and work together when a pet is lost or found. Some helpful information if you find a stray dog/cat. What do you do.....

City ordinance requires a reasonable effort to locate a pet's owner after taking it into your care:

- If the animal is wearing an identification tag, call the number listed.
- You may also take the dog to a licensed veterinarian to check for a microchip, tattoo, or other pet owner identification method and contact the owner.
- Post flyers around neighborhoods
- Contact Tony @ DAS 214-670-9501 and provide information and picture
- As a final option, call 311 to request Dallas Animal Services pick-up the dog or bring it to the shelter for identification screening and impoundment.

Once a reasonable effort to locate an owner has been made, you may choose to continue other efforts to find the owner, keep it, find a new home for it, or surrender the animal to Dallas Animal Services.

Denise Requardt 214-801-1802

Crime Watch

Wynnewood's crime rate has dropped in the past few months. We only had four reported crimes since the last newsletter. One was a theft of service and three were items stolen from outside the home which included bicycles and an A/C unit.

Please welcome our newest neighborhood VIP's, John Tackleberry, Ric Shanahan, and Shaun Stewart! Thanks for volunteering your timeto patrol our streets and keep a watchful eye.

We need a few more residents to keep our neighborhood safe. The Dallas Police Department will hold another class in November after the State Fair Please contact the Crime Watch Director at crime@wynnewoodnorth.org or call 214-673-9477.

Call 911 if you see anything suspicious.

VIP Directory

If you have moved into the neighborhood within the last six months or believe your information is not in the VIP Directory

Crime Stats

email crime@wynnewoodnorth.org and provide:

- Name, address, and phone number

We encourage everyone to put your name in the main directory on the website, however the VIP Directory is only used by VIP's when out on patrol. The phone number helps us communicate to the owner of the house if we have any concerns.

Out of Town/Long Term Construction/Vacant Homes

We keep a monthly log of residents who will be out of town or have long term construction. Please email your name and address, the month before you plan to be out of town or start construction and we will ensure the VIP's keep a watchful eye on your home. The above information is also posted on Nextdoor.

I would like to take this time to thank all the VIP's who have been patrolling for our neighborhood in the last year. This is very much a volunteer program and the reason the program is successful is because of those individuals you see with the signs on their car and the yellow light flashing more than 20 times a month. They do a great job in keeping criminal activity out of our neighborhood. If you see them driving by one night.....just reach out and say THANKS.

Safety Tip

Safety Tip – early this year we had a number of cars broken into. Almost everyone of the cars that were broken into were parked on the street and were broken into between 10 pm and 8am in the morning. If possible it is a good suggestion to always park your car in your driveway before you retire for the evening.
